

Roasters

Jeff grew up in the mountains of North Idaho and ventured down to the flatlands looking for a job several decades ago. He is now a Magic Valley resident and practicing attorney of some 40 years duration, who derives a certain sick pleasure from roasting his friends and colleagues when called upon from time to time. He and Wiley are well acquainted through Rotary Club of Twin Falls, occasional games of golf, and infrequent legal skirmishes between disgruntled parents and misguided School District employees.

Brady Dickinson

Brady was born in Chico, California in 1972. His parents attended Chico State which at the time was rated at the #1 party school in the nation. His parents still claim they were there for the academics. Brady was raised in north Idaho near the small town of Athol (pronounced Ath-ole and not the way you just said it). He moved to Twin Falls in 1995 and has spent his career in the Twin Falls School District.

Brady took over as superintendent for Wiley on July 1st of this year. He has been taking ridicule for his North Idaho connection for over 20 years and is really looking forward to having the microphone and some time to talk about his good friend Wiley

Tony Mannen is a Professor Emeritus of Theater/Communication at the College of Southern Idaho. Professor Mannen is also the Artistic Director of the Random Acts of Theater Players, Inc. He has known Wiley Dobbs since 1976 when Wiley was a student of his at CSI. Tony spends most of his days in utter shock that his bumbling former student Wiley Dobbs amounted to anything more than a menial laborer. Among his many hobbies are laughing at Wiley when he tries to play golf while drinking Wiley's good whiskey.
